LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Permission

Dear Mr. Kendrick:

Many thanks for your letter of March 3rd. I would like to be able to tell you to go right ahead with your plan to use the LIFE cover, but we have had to adopt a few rules which we ask people to follow when using our format for school yearbooks, and we must ask that you abide by them.

1. The word "LIFE" must not appear in a box, regardless of color, anywhere in the publication.
2. It must be clearly stated on the cover that the book is being published by Greenville Senior High school and not by LIFE Magazine.

I am sorry that I must ask you to observe these rules, but we have had to adopt this policy in order to protect our cover, which, of course, is very valuable to us.

I trust that you can understand our position in this matter and hope that LIFE will continue to merit your interest.

The Prexy Speaks

Dear Sir:

The idea of having an informal theme for THE NAUTILUS this year is a good one. Congratulations on thinking up such an idea.

Heretofore our annuals have appeared entirely too formal and did not show the true setting of our students and school. This year, however, if your annual goes over, I feel sure that the subscribers will see a true picture of their school and classmates.

While I am writing, I would also like to tell you how much I think the musical department will appreciate the dedication this year. We have a fine group of musicians, and this year's annual will really show them how much we appreciate all they have done for our school.

Best of luck to you and your staff. May the 1940 NAUTILUS be the best Greenville High has ever had!

J. B. HEATHERLY
Student Body President

● Thanks, prexy! Your support means a great deal to us. We honestly do believe we have the best annual ever this year.—ED.

Major Mahon to Rescue

Dear Ann:

The folks up at Greenville High School have just been to see me regarding their recent request that you select for their yearbook the girls that you consider the prettiest from photographs to be submitted.

They feel that perhaps their letters have gotten lost or misplaced among your fan mail, and as the time is getting short before the yearbook is to be published, they wanted me to write and remind you of their request.

Of course, I know that you have numerous similar requests and that all these things take a lot of time. It is true, however, that the folks in Greenville look upon you as one of their own, and it would be quite a bit of help to the youngsters if you would consent to grant them this favor.

With all good wishes, to both you and your mother, from Mrs. Mahon and me, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
G. HEYWARD MAHON, JR.

● Without Major Mahon's help, I'm sure we could have never staged the successful beauty contest that we did. Thanks a million, Major Mahon!—ED.

Miss Rutherford Accepts

Dear Major Mahon:

Delighted to judge Greenville High school contest. I hadn't heard about it. Send the pictures to the studio in care of publicity department.

Love to you all and Greenville!

ANN RUTHERFORD

● This year marks the first time in the history of THE NAUTILUS that G. H. S. beauty queens have been selected by a Hollywood movie actress. We are indebted to the lovely Miss Rutherford for her aid. It was a thrill, now, wasn't it, girls?—ED.

THE DEDICATION:

TO THE G. H. S. MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Mr. Guy S. Hutchins, shown in two characteristic poses above, has been director of the G. H. S. band and orchestra for the past six years. However, in this short period, he has found a definite place in the hearts of the students. The many pupils who have had the pleasure to study under Mr. Hutchins have found him not only a teacher of unexcelled ability and skill, but also a sympathetic friend and counsellor. In addition to being a man who has won the hearts of his students, he is one of the most versatile musicians in the state. He was granted a leave of absence this year for several weeks during which time he played in the famous Southern Symphony orchestra.

Miss Thelma Cook, instructor of voice and director of the G. H. S. glee clubs, has accomplished much during her first year on the Senior High faculty, having brought to us added glory by her untiring efforts and outstanding ability as a musician. Her programs have been of highest quality, the renditions beautiful, reflecting excellent training and a knowledge of vocal expression to be envied. We feel grateful that the year has brought to us such a distinct asset to our school life. Miss Cook came here from Greer High school.

To our music department, which is so deeply rooted in the traditions of G. H. S. and which for so many years has upheld and glorified the name of Greenville High school in all fields of musical endeavor, we, the staff of the 1940 NAUTILUS, gratefully dedicate this, the twenty-third volume. This music department has had a great beneficial effect upon the student culture at G. H. S.

Our music classes in the past have gathered a formidable array of trophies in virtually every phase of musical endeavor. Mr. Guy S. Hutchins and Miss Thelma Cook, present directors, as well as each member of the school ensembles have played important parts in upholding standards set by previous groups.

Back in 1927, when Mr. DuPre Rhame assumed leadership of the department, he reorganized the orchestra, boys' and girls' glee clubs, all of which received high places in the annual state contests. Under his able guidance, the department soon developed quite an excellent record.

In 1934, Mr. Guy S. Hutchins entered the picture. During his six years at G. H. S., his cohorts have continually placed high in state contests, while last year his orchestra placed first in sight-reading, second in orchestral performance, and the band placed third in performance in a national contest held at Charlotte. These are but a few of his accomplishments.

A salute to our music department and a sincere wish for just as fine a record in the future!

NAUTILUS BIDS ADIEU TO GREAT EDUCATOR

Three likenesses of Dr. James L. Mann, beloved superintendent of the city schools, who is retiring this year following 24 years of faithful service. At the left, in a leisurely pose on the porch of his office building on Westfield street; center, a formal pose of the great educator; at right, a warm handclasp with his successor, Mr. W. F. Loggins.

THE LIFE OF DR. J. L. MANN is a brilliant as well as a colorful one. It is one that should inspire the thousands of students who are yet to enter the portals of the city schools. Born in Abbeville county in 1872, he had little early schooling. However, he must have been self-educated and ambitious, as he entered college as a freshman at the tender age of 12, and, even more miraculous than that, became a full-fledged teacher in a small country school at the age of 15.

Dr. Mann continued his search for a higher education, as he now holds degrees from Emory university, University of Heidelberg in Berlin, Germany, and Université de Grenoble in France. The young South Carolinian soon was convinced that school work was his life's vocation. Thus, he served capably as superintendent of the Florence (South Carolina) city schools for 14 years, held the same position at Greensboro (North Carolina) for six years, finally coming to Greenville in the fall of 1916, in which position he has remained for nearly a quarter of a century.

He blazed the path of G. H. S. annuals of later years by starting in 1916 the first high-school yearbook in the state, "The Mountaineer," illustrious forerunner of THE NAUTILUS at G. H. S.

When the retiring school head came to this city, he found only ten grades. The so-called high school of a few pupils was housed on the top floor of the old building, located on Westfield street at the point where the junior high now stands. In addition to the high school grades, a full grammar school was also operated in the plant. During that same first year, he installed an eleventh grade, with a senior class enrollment of only seven. His faculty at that time was composed of only 15 members, four of whom are still teaching in the senior high.

This month he graduates nearly 400 seniors from senior high, making over 3,000 G. H. S. students to whom he has presented diplomas. What a glorious record! In addition to all his other attainments, Dr. Mann inaugurated the first free text book system in the state here in Greenville, a system that is still very much in vogue and which is envied by other schools in larger cities.

And so, the 1940 NAUTILUS, the last annual whose administrative pages will be graced by Dr. James L. Mann, wishes to bid "good-bye and good luck" to its "godfather." May the years be good to you! We feel that we can never repay you for the many things you have so willingly done for us. G. H. S. will never forget you, Dr. Mann. We pray that you will never forget us.

NEWLY-ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT AND THE BUSINESS MANAGER

Nautilus Traces Careers of Mr. W. F. Loggins, Assistant Superintendent of the City Schools, and Mr. Joseph E. Johnston, Business Manager

OUR NEW SUPERINTENDENT, Mr. W. F. Loggins (left) at his desk in the Senior High School building, (center) a formal pose. Mr. Loggins will climax 16 years of outstanding service in the Greenville city school system with elevation to the superintendency at the end of the present year. He came to Greenville High School some twenty years ago as a French and Spanish instructor. Later he was made principal of Hayne grammar school, serving for three years. Then followed a year of schooling at Columbia University at the end of which he received his M. A. degree. This brilliant educator was made G. H. S. principal during the school year, 1928-29, and served in this position with distinction for seven years, resigning at the end of the 1934-35 session to continue his studies. His career continued to lead "skyward," as he was made superintendent of the Sumter city schools in the fall of 1936. He returned to the local city schools in the fall of 1938-39 as assistant superintendent and has remained since. This well-versed administrator received his schooling at Easley High School, Furman University, Columbia University, New York University, University of Chicago, and the University of Virginia. We are expecting even greater things from Mr. Loggins in the future.

OUR ACCOMODATING BUSINESS MANAGER, Mr. Joseph E. Johnston (above, right) entering his automobile. This business head, noted for his courtesy and efficiency, is this year completing his sixth year in his present position. He came to the city schools from West Virginia, following a brilliant career as a financier in several states. Mr. Johnston is a Furman graduate of 1902, not only distinguishing himself as a scholar, but also as an athlete. Following his graduation, he became treasurer of the American Home Fire Insurance Company of this city. Later, he helped to organize the old Fourth National Bank here and was its first cashier. He was also at one time connected with the old City National Bank. Thus, we can see that he is well-experienced in money matters. He brought a brilliant record with him to the city schools in the fall of 1934. And this record seems to have no end for the "guardian of the city school's coffers." Yes, he is a friend of teacher and pupil alike.

THE G. H. S. DEANS: IN FORMAL AND INFORMAL POSES

In March came the announcement that Mr. Anderson had been made the first Greenville Senior High school principal to serve in the new building. This promotion crowned his three-year career as a G. H. S. administrator. The newly-elected principal joined the Senior High faculty three years ago as assistant principal. The following year he was made dean of boys which position he has held for the past two scholastic years. Mr. Anderson did his undergraduate work at Furman University and received his master's degree at Duke University.

G. H. S. has been blessed with only two deans of girls during its illustrious history, Mrs. Louise Y. Earle, who resigned at the end of the 1936-37 session, being replaced by Miss Elizabeth L. Jones, a member of the foreign language department at that time. Both have done credit to our institution. Miss Jones is carrying on with the same spirit and vision that Mrs. Earle possessed. She feels close to G. H. S. as she is one of our graduates. Her undergraduate college work was done at Greenville Woman's College, while an M. A. degree was conferred on her later by Columbia University. The young dean came into the city school system as a member of the faculty at the Donaldson grammar school where she taught for four years. She came to G. H. S. in 1934-35 as a Latin teacher which position she filled faithfully for three years. Also, she served as a counsellor for two of those years. Today she is vice president of the G. W. C. Alumnae association and a member of the Girl Reserves executive committee.

Lots of luck to you two in years to come!

● Both Mr. Anderson and Miss Jones have given invaluable aid to the NAUTILUS staff this year. We take this belated opportunity to thank you. —Ed.

Reading from top to bottom: Mrs. James McCabe, secretary to Superintendent J. L. Mann; Mrs. J. P. Verdin, secretary to Business Manager Joseph E. Johnston; Miss Ophelia Langston, Greenville Senior High school secretary; and Miss Clara Green, assistant Senior High school secretary.

OUR SECRETARIES

The Greenville city school system has long been blessed with efficient, industrious secretaries, who are always willing to go out of their line of duties in order to help, no matter the occasion. The dean of this fine quartet is Mrs. James McCabe, secretary to Dr. J. L. Mann for the past 15 years. Previous to that time, she taught at Draughon's Business college. Mrs. McCabe came to Greenville from Jackson, Mississippi. Secretary to Mr. J. E. Johnston, city schools' business manager, is Mrs. J. P. Verdin, who has filled this position for the past five years and seven months. This jovial and accomplished worker previously served in the office of the Greenville county treasurer. Mrs. Verdin is unusually gifted in this field and is a distinct asset to the system. She came to Greenville from Washington, Georgia. Next to Mrs. McCabe in length of service is Miss Ophelia Langston, brilliant Greenville Senior High secretary, who has served with great efficiency for the past 12 years. She is quite a veteran among city school employes, as she taught in the system for a number of years before accepting her present position. In fact, Miss Langston was teaching in the grammar grades here as far back as 1916. In 1918, she came to the high school where she was an instructor through the school year 1923-24. Then followed an elapse of four years during which time she was out of the city, returning in the fall of 1928 to become G. H. S. secretary during the first year of Mr. W. F. Loggins' principalship. Miss Clara Green has served as assistant Greenville Senior High secretary for only two years, but in that short time she has endeared herself to pupils and teachers alike. She is not only an able worker, but a pleasant and charming character as well. Prior to her present position, Miss Green did secretarial work in the claim department of the Maryland Casualty company for eight years.

FACULTY LIFE . . .

. . . AS SEEN BY THE NAUTILUS

ART

Mr. A. Wolfe Davidson
Miss Agnes Deal
Mr. R. H. McLane

AIMS

To give the student an opportunity to use his creative ability and experiment in as many media as possible to help find his own aptitudes.

To broaden the student's acquaintance with art of the world so that he will have a basis of knowledge and interest that will grow with the years to come. The art department is designed not to be merely a separate unit of the school but to be integrated with all of it so that it can be of value and service to each department.

Art was first offered at G. H. S. during the second semester of 1935-36, being taught by Mr. Davidson one day per week. Only 15 pupils were enrolled in this initial class. The next scholastic year, it was taught three days per week, from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoons with 18 enrolled. In 1937-38 it was offered five periods per day, five days per week. Today the department has grown to an enrollment of over 116.

THE CAFETERIA

Miss Floride Harper
Manager

AIMS

To meet the food requirements of the student, helping to lay the foundation of physical vigor upon which the structure of mental training can be effectively built. To serve as an educational factor, instilling wise food habits, offering an opportunity for lessons in courtesy and consideration.

COMMERCE

Mr. J. B. Johns, Head
Mr. T. W. Keitt
Mrs. Jessie B. Ray
Mrs. Rita Heape
Miss Mary Moore
Mrs. Thad Adams

AIMS

1. To aid the student in learning to adjust himself to a changing society. By learning to think for himself, he meets his problems for himself and solves them upon prineiples that he has proved to be right.

2. To aid the student in living and working with others. While working untiringly for his own advancement, he must learn to respect the rights of others; that his advancement must be shoulder to shoulder with others and not by taking unfair advantage.

3. To aid the student in acquiring certain types of skills and techniques that he may use them profitably in his business life, of whatever nature that may be.

4. To aid the student in choosing a vocation that seems best fitted to his individual capabilities and needs.

DRAMATICS

Mr. R. H. McLane, Head

AIMS

Not to develop professionals in the sense of the word, but to aid in furthering appreciation, information, practical experience, and cooperation resulting in helping the student become more intelligently critical. To aid in personality development.

ENGLISH

Miss Jeannette Miller, Head
Miss Carolyn Banner
Miss Marjorie Crouch

Miss Anna Hawkins
Mr. Fred C. Kendrick
Mr. R. H. McLane
Miss Mary Neeley
Miss Hortense Parkins
Miss Winifred Rogers
Miss Orvetta Weston
Miss Dorothy Zirkle

AIMS

In Composition:

To establish habits of clear, forceful, and accurate English in all expressional situations.

In Literature:

To stimulate the reading of worthwhile literature in order that personality be further developed mentally and spiritually.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Miss Elizabeth L. Jones, Head

Miss Amber Boggs

Miss Lois Green

Miss Mary Mellette

Mr. Judson Strickland

AIMS

The foreign language department hopes to create in its students an understanding and an appreciation of languages and people differing from our own, yet closely bound to us by history, language, and civilization. We hope, furthermore, to see arise from this study a sympathetic attitude toward all foreign peoples, and a tolerance for the characteristics, customs, and attitudes of other nations.

In the study of languages, four important phases are stressed: the hearing, speaking, reading, and writing of each particular langnage.

HOME ECONOMICS

Miss Caroline Mauldin, Head
Miss Vera Burnette
Miss Ruth Jessup

AIMS

In our courses in home economics, we try to teach or bring out characteristics in the girl that are important for successful and happy living. Most high school and college students have rather definite plans for the time when they leave school. Some may plan to enter the business world; others will probably continue living in their present homes. Not many will plan to marry immediately and establish homes of their own. At first thought, it may not seem important for these students to study home economics.

However, if we look ahead into the lives of these students who enter upon business careers, we find that, although much of their time is consumed by their work, not all of it by any means is. They may be successful and happy in their work, but no one can be completely happy, no matter how successful in a business way, unless she enjoys a comfortable and satisfactory home life. Each of these young people must spend some portion of time in a home, whether it be only one room or a twenty-room house. And the home, small or large, will be comfortable and happy depending upon the degree of ability which the individual has as a home-maker.

It depends largely upon ourselves whether or not we build the right kind of home life. Since everyone must do his share in creating a satisfactory home life, whether she lives alone, with her family, or with friends, it is desirable that each high school student should study home-making. In our high school, home economics is given as an elective course. This usually makes it easier for the home economics teacher, as we get students who are interested in this type of work. However, there are many students who do not know enough about home economics to be interested in it. Most likely these students are the ones who need this subject the most. Some schools require each girl student to study this course at least for one year. They have found that most of the girls will choose it the following year and the ones who do not will realize the importance of the subject. In the last few years, the modern boy has seen that he is quite as vitally concerned in home-making as his sister, both for his present and his future life, so many schools are offering home economics to boys as well as girls. Several G. H. S. boys are enrolled in our courses now.

JOURNALISM

Mr. Fred C. Kendrick

Miss Sara Meredith

AIMS

1. To teach pupils how to write and enjoy it.
2. To teach pupils how to read and understand the newspaper.
3. To develop habits of accuracy.
4. To teach discrimination in reading.
5. To teach the course in such a manner that students will obtain educative experiences not found in other classes.

THE LIBRARY

AIMS

To provide books and magazines of information and recreation for both students and teachers.

To give instruction in the use of books and libraries.

To so organize library materials that they may be readily and easily available.

To provide an environment of peace and orderliness where studies may be pursued in undisturbed quiet.

To encourage the love of good reading as one of the inner resources against the vicissitudes of life.

MATHEMATICS

Mrs. Maude N. Earle, Head
Mr. Paul Austin
Miss Mel Lee Daniel
Miss Agnes Ellison
Mr. J. W. Ellison
Miss Annice Galphin
Mrs. J. W. Hicks
Miss Sara Meredith
Mrs. Maud Williams

AIMS

The mathematics department as organized today has for its aim the maximum development of each child consistent with his ability and his needs in a socio-economic world.

There are two groups of students for whom provision is made. There is one whose interests require preparation for higher mathematics; another whose needs are for a functional mathematics for vocations to be entered upon immediately after graduation. One type is hardly more important than the other.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. J. H. Speer,
Boys' Athletic Director

Mr. James Moore

Miss Caroline Easley,
Girls' Athletic Director

AIMS

Boys

To teach the boy how to live and play with others, to know his body and how to care for it in order that he may grow into a better man physically, mentally, and morally. Also, to help him make better use of his leisure time.

Girls

The aim of the girls' department of physical education is to develop skills in various activities that are beneficial and enjoyable now and that have a carry-over value when school days are over. Through the point system, girls are encouraged (1) to take part in many different activities and (2) to find one team sport and one individual activity in which they can excel. Volleyball, baseball, basketball are the most popular among team sports, while tennis, bowling, archery, and skating have found a high place in individual sports. Two hundred and eighty-seven girls have been enrolled in physical education classes this year.

SCIENCE

Miss Belle Free, Head
Miss Nellie Burnette
Miss Agnes Ellison

1. To make the social, political, industrial, and economic world more intelligible to the student, with the idea of making him a more competent member of society; in short, to make him a better citizen.

2. To promote tolerance or a sympathetic and altruistic attitude toward people, conditions, ideas, and practices that are not always similar to our own.

3. To promote pleasure and happiness (for general culture and better use of leisure time).

4. To develop character and to develop high-minded patriotism.

VOCATIONAL

Mr. C. W. Coons, Head
Mr. Lindsey Boozer, Jr.
Mr. Herbert Cannon

● Without the help of the above group, the 1940 Nautilus, which we believe is in a class by itself in comparison with former G. H. S. yearbooks, could not have been produced. We are deeply grateful to Mr. Boozer, his club, and to the city schools for procuring a camera for us.—ED.

NAUTILUS GOES TO AN ASSEMBLY

STUDENTS LEARN TO COOK AND SEW

THE ABOVE SCENES prove that G. H. S. produces good home-makers. Top row (1) Louise Hudson fitting a dress on Frances Barbare, (2) Frances Perry and Ruby Nell Sightler learn what the sink is for, (3) Ruth Corn also finds dish-washing interesting (?). Middle row (4) Mildred Harrison and Miss Vera Burnette "eating their own food," (5) Virginia Hunter at the ironing board. Third row (6) Frankie Bellwood at the sewing machine, (7) Ann Moses and Bobby Kay find eating a "delectable delight."

It Snows at G.S.S.

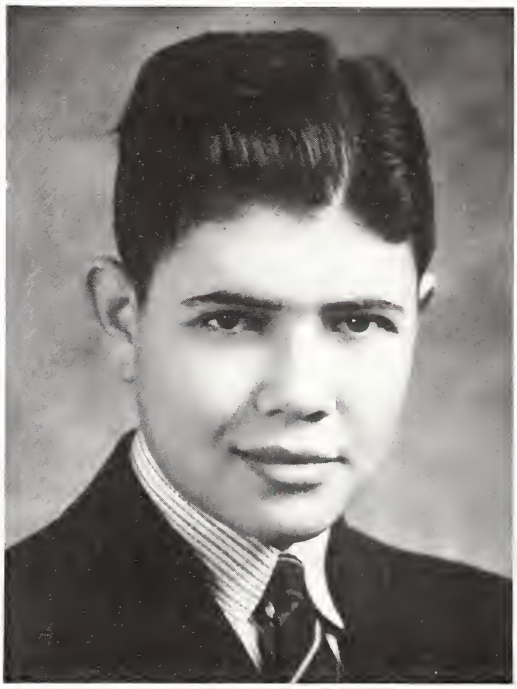
In Memoriam

TO



TEDDY KLYNE

April 26, 1924 — February 26, 1940

SOMEWHERE down the Golden Streets in the Great Beyond wanders a friend of ours, a large, dark-haired Jewish boy. If Paradise provides him a winning team and a typewriter with which to toss it laurels, he is immeasurably happy. If he is disappointed at being unable to bring to a glorious completion the fine work he was doing as NAUTILUS sports editor and HIGH NEWS assistant sports editor, no one knows it. Hard knocks only brought little more determined smiles to his kindly face.

Even though Teddy would not have it so, there will always be an empty place in the G. H. S. journalism department and in all our hearts for him. When we think of him, how hard and unselfishly he worked, it will serve as an inspiration to us to try a little harder in order to have our own tasks well and willingly done.

And, so, Teddy left G. H. S., leaving it a better place than when he found it, the better for his having been here. Though he is gone forever from us, his alma mater will revere his name for many years to come.

Good luck on your greatest assignment, Teddy!

ATHLETIC LIFE: COACHES AND MANAGERS

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR J. H. SPEER (Top, right)—After several seasons of abundance, it seemed at the outset that Mr. Speer's lean year had finally come. Inexplicably, his 1940 team began the season poorly. However, using the knowledge that he had gained from his 11-year experience at G. H. S., the doughty mentor molded an effective machine which ripped through six opponents, while losing to four.

"It was a pleasure to have worked with the 1939 football team. They were a group of fine boys who took instructions well and carried out their assignments. They had a wonderful spirit and did not know what the word 'defeat' meant. We are going to miss those seniors next year, and they will be hard to replace," was the way Coach "Speedy" summed up the 1939 gridiron season.

ASSISTANT COACH JAMES MOORE (Center, right)—Mr. Moore's first year at the helm of the Red Raider basketball team saw him skillfully develop one of the best cage outfits to represent G. H. S. in a number of years. Having already demonstrated his worth to the school by his accomplishments as line mentor in football, Mr. "Slick" added to his attainments by taking a group of players, sprinkled with veteran and inexperienced material, and developing a team that won 16 tilts while losing only seven.

"The 1940 basketball team was a complete headache at first. After they found out that they could win as easily as lose, it was a pleasure to work with them. We will miss W. R. Riddle, Jim Reeves, and Donald Linn next year," was the statement issued THE NAUTILUS by Mr. Moore.

LOU VELLENGA (Bottom, right)—Coach of the "B" team in football. Mr. Vellenga, a Furman university athlete, noted particularly for his pugilistic ability, did a good job of instilling the Greenville High system into the Red and White second team. He was popular with the players and coaches alike.

TWO MANAGERS (bottom) who did yeoman service throughout the year. On left, Ted Machen, football manager; and on the right, Curtis Welborn, basketball manager.

NAUTILUS REVIEWS CAREERS OF 1939 LETTERMEN

With 12 lettermen missing from the 1938 fold, Coach "Speedy" Speer, using his few experienced players as a nucleus, developed another powerful gridiron machine, which opened the season off form, but, as the campaign progressed, rounded into shape, completing the year with six wins and four losses.

Donald Linn—Steady, dependable, consistent—perhaps no other words better describe Donald "Duck" Linn, husky blond All-State tackle and winner of the Hale's Most Valuable Player award, which automatically rendered him captain for the season. He was always in the heat of every battle and of invaluable worth to the local grid aggregation.

Monty Byers—Fleet as a deer, but hard as a rock, Monty Byers will go down as one of the greatest individual stars ever to don Red and White moleskins. A terrific, almost unstoppable runner, and as good a team man as could be found, Byers paced his mates to several victories with his brilliant and spectacular gallops. He capped the season's fine performance by capturing a backfield berth and automatic captaincy of the All-State team, receiving more votes than any other candidate. Monty was also named on the 1939 All-Southern eleven. This youngster led the G. H. S. scorers with 58 points.

Johnny Howard—Two hundred pounds of high explosive, Johnny "Stopper" Howard was a thorn in the side of foemen who tried center smashes. "Stopper," remarkably fast for his size, proved a great running guard, and he added to his laurels by winning one of the guard positions on the official All-State team.

Roy Hunt—When the Raiders lacked a few yards for first downs, Roy "Ripper" Hunt could usually be depended upon to smash his way through for the needed yardage. "Ripper" received the Hunter blocking trophy and also a place on the second-string All-State machine. Rugged and elusive, Roy will be missed immeasurably when next season rolls around. He ranked third in Raider scoring, with 36 tallies.

William Smith—Although hampered by a mid-season injury, William proved a valuable asset to the Red Electric line. An outstanding reserve last year, "Wee Willie" moved into a starting tackle position in 1939 and was a terror to opposing backs who tried to gain on off tackle plays.

George Briggs—One of the most dependable linemen of the year was George Briggs, the lad who, to "Speedy's" regret, waited until his senior year to try for a varsity position. George broke into the starting lineup in a couple of the late-season embroglios, and his alertness while in these games convinced the coaches of his sterling ability.

Ashton Traynham—Lacking in stature, Ashton Traynham made up for his short-comings in size with his sheer determination and intestinal fortitude. Product of the state of New Jersey, he alternated at the center post with Jackson and helped Coach Speer solve the pivotal job.

FOOTBALL: —(Continued)

Jimmy Rhodes—This elongated end, playing his third year of varsity football, was out most of the campaign with a leg injury, but during the tilts he did participate in, he showed the same high calibre of performance exhibited in former years. He will be greatly missed next year.

Bill Jackson—Plugging the center gap in the forewall left vacant by Marion "Hawk" Craig's departure, Bill Jackson constantly annoyed the opposition and often smashed through to spill runners for losses. He is a junior and should be bigger and better than ever in 1940.

Frank Galloway—One of the most graceful and elusive backfield aces of the past season was Frank Galloway, brother of the illustrious Charlie. He was second in scoring, with 48 pointers. With two years yet in front of him at G. H. S., Frank should become one of the all-time Raider "greats."

Wilbur Ellis—Another good end was Wilbur Ellis, a junior, who in his first year out was good enough to rate a starting berth in several battles. He played in commendable fashion whenever given a chance and will be an important hold-over for next year's aggregation.

Bill Hunter—A sturdy tackle on last year's eleven was Bill Hunter, a burly lad who alternated at one of the tackle posts with William Smith. This reserve from the 1938 contingent was an important cog in the Electric machine when he was in the game.

Furman Riddle—His deeds were unheralded, but, nevertheless, Furman Riddle provided the margin of victory in several affrays with his consistent and unerring interference. Designated to the role of blocking back during the past season, Furman is a player who is bound to break into the spotlight sooner or later next year. He has two more years.

Carthel Crout—One of the largest boys on the squad was Carthel "Swede" Crout. His teeth-rattling tackles and pass-snagging ability made him one of the mainstays at an end post. "Swede" should be an outstanding prospect for All-State honors next year if he takes up where he left off last fall.

C. B. Adams—Following in the footsteps of his illustrious brother, "Buster," C. B., a sophomore, has already seen two years of varsity service. Often his precise and deadly blocking have meant the difference between a long gain and a loss.

Albert Faress—A reserve guard who saw considerable service, Albert "Bulldog" Faress is a Raider gridster from whom much will be heard in the future. He received his nickname for his vicious and clean-cut tackling and blocking. Scribes in local gridiron circles should keep an eye on Albert next year, as he promises to be All-State material.

Heyward Lupo—A big, bruising end, Heyward Lupo played a great deal of good football last fall. Although it was his initial year on the varsity, Heyward proved that his bone-crushing tackles could make up for what he lacked in the way of experience.

Billy Davis—From cheer leader to varsity guard is the success story of Billy Davis, former pepster who forsook his cheering apparel to don the regalia of the boys whom he had been cheering on to victory. Bill exhibited skill in both offensive and defensive tactics and is being groomed for heavy duties in the future.

James Edens—"Red" Edens was a substitute end whom "Speedy" called upon for considerable service. His play was always characterized by a flaming desire to win, and he promises to be a luminary next year.

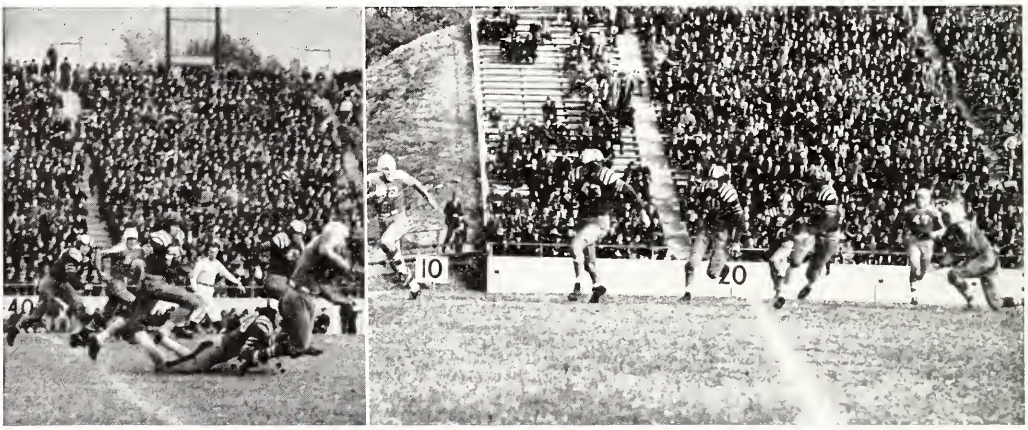
Jones Brown—As a substitute back, Jones Brown served capably in this capacity and often broke away for gains while he was in the lineup. With a bit more polish and experience, he probably would have rated a starting position oftener.

Frank Solas—There are always some boys who, because of good material, are never quite able to make the first team, but, neverthcless, they give all they have to the cause. Frank Solas falls in this category, for he gave the best he had for three years and in his senior year proudly joins the ranks of those receiving block letters.

Alex Lanoway—Winner of the Center Theatre Most Valuable Scrub trophy last year was Alex "Candy Boy" Lanoway, a fighting backfield substitute, who distinguished himself in every fracas he entered during the past two seasons.

Ted Machen—After three years of hard work and loyal service to his alma mater, Ted won his letter this year as football manager. Always too small to compete with the larger lads, Ted gave his best to the school by taking care of the equipment and doing the other tedious chores of a manager.

FOOTBALL: GREENVILLE SMASHES PARKER'S UNDEFEATED



ACTION PHOTOS OF THE GREENVILLE-PARKER GAME

Entering the affray with betting odds against them for the first time in several years, the Red Raiders celebrated Thanksgiving with a crushing 21-0 triumph over Parker's undefeated Golden Tornado before an estimated crowd of 11,000, the largest to ever witness a high school game in the Palmetto state.

In every phase of the sport the Speermen were superior and from the first Raider score in the initial stanza, there was little doubt as to the outcome, although the scrappy Parker team valiantly, but vainly, fought to the last minute.

Failing to capitalize on an early break, Parker punted on the last down only to have Wilbur Ellis smash through and block the pigskin. Frank Galloway scored after Smith and Hunt collaborated on a 50 yard run back of the bounding oval.

Throughout the second and third periods both lines held like stone walls with the backs being repeatedly smeared behind the line of scrimmage.

But the Red and White combine was not through, and the last quarter saw more fireworks as Greenville added two six-pointers and a safety to their lone first-period marker. Monty "Superman" Byers, with doughty Furman Riddle and C. B. Adams cutting down would-be-tacklers, swept 69 yards down the field to the land of Milk and Honey. Several plays later big Carthel Crout smashed Miller down behind his own goal for a safety to increase the local lead to 14-0.

With but two minutes of playing time left, Monty Byers placed the ball in scoring position on the Parker 15. On the next play "Ripper" Hunt rammed and battered his way across the double stripes for the final Electric counter.

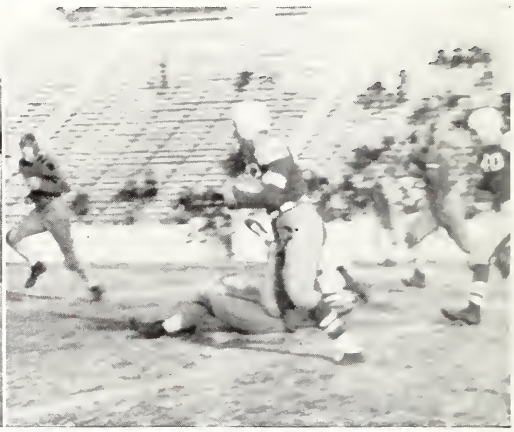
FOOTBALL: RAIDERS CRUSH BATTLING SPARTANBURG



ACTION PHOTOS OF GREENVILLE-SPARTANBURG GAME

Some 2,500 fans, with plenty of yells stored in their vocal boxes to urge their team to victory, went wild with joy when the rip-roaring Red Raiders crushed a hapless Spartanburg eleven, 19-0, on a cold, windy day in November.

The battle-scarred turf of Sirrine Stadium sank just a little bit beneath the terrific battle, which was waged up and down the field in a free manner.

The Red Electrics were successful in crossing the goal line three times, while the Red Birds were stopped at the Dynamo's 18-yard stripe.

Greenville attained its scores on three spectacular plays. When Monteith "Miracle Man" Byers took an enemy punt and returned it 54-yards for a tally, Mentor Speer began using his substitutes to the best advantage.

Later Roy "The Ripper" Hunt intercepted one of the Hub City lads' aerials, and scampered 45 yards to add to the Speermen's score.

The Greenville gridsters, remembering the beatings which they formerly took at the hands of these bitter rivals, unleashed their power again and this time it was Frank "Galloping Ghost" Galloway lugging the pigskin 61 yards to cross the double stripes and end the afternoon's scoring.

ACTION PHOTOS OF GREENVILLE-ROCK HILL GAME

With the joy of their first victory of the 1939 football campaign still fresh in their memories, Greenville High's steadily improving Red Raiders nosed out a fighting Rock Hill eleven by the slim but decided margin of one point (7-6) in a bitterly fought game played on the Parker gridiron.

The Red Electrics made a superb first-quarter goal line stand and repelled a terrific offensive attack launched at them by the strong Cats. Greenville showed amazing defensive power by stubbornly holding its ground as the Carrmen repeatedly hurled their forces at the Raider forewall in an effort to cross the double stripes.

Monteith Byers flipped a pass to Carthel Crout in the second period for the Speermen's six-pointer, and then calmly converted the extra point which meant victory.

The hard-charging Bear Cat gridsters were unable to do much damage to the Red and White line and were forced to take to the air in the final stanza to attain their only touchdown.

FOOTBALL: POTENT COLUMBIA CAPITALS EKE OUT VICTORY

ACTION PHOTOS OF GREENVILLE-COLUMBIA NIGHT GAME

Fearing a let-down after his team's brilliant showing against Winston-Salem the week before, Skipper Speer worked hard to avoid over-confidence in the Columbia affray. The result was a magnificent performance by the locals, but the Capitals capitalized on two early game breaks and out-scored the Raiders, 18-13, on Sirrine Stadium's beautiful turf in a night affray.

The Caps took a 12-point lead in the initial period as the result of a blocked punt and an Electric fumble. However, Monty Byers took the next kickoff and sidestepped, out-ran, and eluded all would-be tacklers to score on a brilliant 90-yard run. The Caps also added to their score in the second quarter to put them ahead 18-7.

In the last stanza, the 5,000 fans were again brought to their feet by "Miracle Man" Byers' beautiful 34-yard sprint across the goal. Byers took the center pass, cut through center, veered sharply to his right, raced down the sideline and stumbled across the double stripes after being hit hard. Thus ended the scoring in one of the most spectacular grid clashes ever witnessed by local high school fans.

DESCRIPTION OF REMAINING '39 TILTS

EASLEY 6—GREENVILLE 3—Opening the season against Easley, the over-confident Red Electrics suffered a close 6-3 decision at the hands of an alert Green Wave which capitalized on a late-game break. The locals, by virtue of Monty Byers' fourth-quarter field goal, took a momentary lead until Easley recovered a Raider fumble and pushed over the deciding tally late in the game.

BOYS' HIGH 14—GREENVILLE 0—A fine Atlanta Boys' High squad, with two teams equally worthy of starting, held the locals at bay and pushed over two markers to give the Speermen their worst licking of the season by a 14-0 count. The locals, who had obviously not yet hit their stride, missed several opportunities to score, and this cost them the game.

GREENVILLE 31—HONEA PATH 13—The Raiders finally began rolling and vented their fury on an unfortunate Honea Path team to the tune of 31-13. Galloway, counting thrice on spectacular gallops, was superb, as were "Ripper" Hunt and Monty Byers, both of whom tallied. This game was the 1939 turning point for the locals.

GREENVILLE 20—CHARLESTON 18—On the mercury heels and educated toe of Monty Byers, the Raiders sailed to victory over the Charleston High aggregation by a close 20-18 count in the "City by the Sea." Byers reeled off two long runs and converted two of the Raiders' extra points to supply the Speermen's margin of victory. Galloway scored the other tally, while Roy Hunt played his usual steady game.

Greenvillians by one point for the fourth consecutive year. "Ripper" Hunt sparkled for the Red and White aggregation, as he smashed his way through for both Raider tallies.

GREENVILLE 25—WINSTON-SALEM 0—Primed to the peak of perfection, the improving Red Electrics unleashed a powerful offensive which completely swept the heralded Winston-Salem Orphans' home eleven off its feet and enabled the Speermen to gallop to an impressive 25 to 0 triumph. Frank Galloway took the opening kickoff and, on a beautiful return, raced 85 yards to burst a lightning-like "blitzkrieg" in the face of the bewildered North Carolinians. Just a few minutes later, Monty Byers tucked a punt under his arm and eluded all would-be tacklers for another scoring stroke that put the G. H. S. eleven ahead by 12-0. Galloway and Hunt each counted during the second quarter, bringing the score for the evening to 25-0 in favor of the jubilant Raiders.

Mary Frances Smith, the head cheer leader, ended three years on the pep squad. This winsome lassie was always present when the home team needed her and her cheers rang true whether in victory or defeat. Mary Frances' pet hate was the "throwing of bottles and peanuts from the grandstand," while her ambition is "to have as good a time in the future as she has had at G. H. S." Her favorite sport is horseback riding.

Randoph Smith, the other senior cheerer, served only one year on the squad. This youngster was always loyal and backed his team to the limit. "Randy's" hobby is photography, while his chief ambition is to be "a second Gene Krupa." His pet hate is "sissies." Although he'd rather lead football cheers than anything else, he says his favorite sport is basketball.

Mary Cottingham closed her second year as a pep dispenser. During those two years, she distinguished herself as one of our premier cheerers. For her service, she has been named head cheer leader for 1940-41. Her hobby is "helping other people." This maiden's pet hate is geometry, while her ambition is "to be a good trained nurse." Her favorite sport is swimming.

Dick Lange, the other junior member, has been in the position only one athletic year. However, he was heard from in every game and was an asset to the Raiders at all times. His hobby is "Yahudi." The junior youngster's pet hate is "over-cautious drivers." He aspires to be a landscape architect. Also, he likes swimming better than all other forms of sport.

Nancy Brockman and "Sunny" McManaway, the two sophomores, learned what "it was all about" with great alacrity and soon were yelling with the best of them. They should be among the best in the state next year. Nancy's hobby is dramatics, while "Sunny's" is "athletics." The second-year girlie's pet hate is algebra; "Sunny's" is Clemson. Young McManaway's favorite game is baseball, Nancy's horseback riding. Their ambitions are "to be a secretary" and "to be a lawyer" respectively.

BASKETBALL: ELECTRICS CLIMAX SEASON WITH VICTORY IN CLASS "A" IN STATE TOURNAMENT

1940 RED RAIDER CAGESTERS WIN 16 AND LOSE 7

After a slow start in characteristic Greenville High school fashion, the Red Raider basketeers of 1940 crushed three tournament foes in Columbia to win the official South Carolina Class "A" championship, and thus ended their best cage season in more than a decade. The Greenvillians, under the tutelage of their dynamic new coach, Mr. James "Slick" Moore, closed the year with 11 straight victories, including the three tournament affrays. Their record for the entire campaign was 16 wins and seven losses during which they accumulated a total of 858 points to opponents' 597.

The season saw both Furman and W. R. Riddle scale the heights of "All-Statedom"; Furman "Little Un" Riddle eclipse the old high-scoring record of 182 points, held by Marion "Butch" Butler, by ten points; and, finally, saw the Raiders twice turn back the Spartanburg Red Birds for the first time in 12 years.

The Mooremen opened their season with an easy 51-24 triumph over Easley's Green Wave on the home court. Journeying to Clemson for their second tilt, the G. H. S. cagesters were stopped by the Tiger Freshmen by a 35-24 margin.

Next came a thrill-packed embroglio with Asheville High, which saw the Electrics play two extra periods and then lose 43-37.

Visiting Columbia, the Raiders downed the Capitals, 28-24, but lost a sluggish tussle to Dreher High, 18-17.

A second-half rally by Parker enabled the District lads to send the locals into the doldrums of defeat after a gallant Raider first-half stand on the Tornado court. The count was 25 to 18.

After suffering their third consecutive defeat at the hands of the Furman Yearlings by a close 32-29 count, the Red Electrics finally eked out a victory, downing the Greer Yellow Jackets at Greer, 32-26. In a return match, the locals handily trounced the Clemson Rats, 37-28.

Just as it seemed that a long-sought Greenville triumph over Parker was pending, Furman Riddle fouled out at the outset of the third quarter, and a second-half onslaught of the Reamesmen carried them to an easy 41-29 win.

Easley was again disposed of, this time on their own court, 45-20, but the Mooremen were taken into camp by the Asheville Red Devils on the Maroons' court by a 39-31 tally.

Greenville High next trounced Dreher in an easy battle, 36-14, in the local gymnasium. They followed this with a successful trip to Spartanburg where they gave the Red Birds a 41-28 licking, the first in 12 years over the Dobsonmen. Furman Riddle, spark-plugged the locals' attack and was the hero of the evening.

The cagemen were gaining momentum and closed the 1940 season in a blaze of glory with eight more straight victories, making it 11 in a row. Included in these last triumphs were a 48-24 riot of the Furman Frosh, a 47-22 shellacking handed Columbia High on the home floor, a 56-17 run-away with Paris High, a 41-17 trimming handed Greer, a glorious 32-17 licking administered Spartanburg High in the return engagement in Greenville, a 50-20 aftermath over the luckless Berea lads, and the three tournament triumphs at Columbia.

These tourney affairs saw the Mooremen trounce all three foes by at least ten points. The initial tussle found them whipping Darlington, 47-25, with the second five playing more than half the affair. In the second round, the Red and White wearers found Murray Vocational of Charleston rather soft pickings, passing their way to a clean-cut 35-23 win.

In the final championship event, the G. H. S. dribblers met Dreher High of Columbia for the third time during the season. Prior to this titular struggle, both quintets had a win apiece over each other. This would settle the issue of supremacy once and for all. And the Raiders settled it to the satisfaction of all, with a convincing last-quarter 45-35 victory.

MISS EASLEY, GIRLS' ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, SUMMARIZES SEASON

Block Letter Club—Block letters are awarded on a point basis to girls who have taken part in several athletic activities and who have excelled in at least one. Five hundred points are necessary to win a block "G."

Basketball—The basketball season this year was a very enthusiastic one. The squad was divided into three teams—senior, junior, and sophomore, or "A", "B", and "C". After playing each other, these sextets competed with corresponding outfits from Parker High school. In addition to these tilts, the senior team played Spartanburg High school. Another interesting trip was taken to Erskine college to attend the girls' basketball conference.

Volleyball—Volleyball, ever popular at G. H. S. was played this year between the senior, junior, and sophomore teams. As usual, we had two contests with Parker, one on the local court and one in the District gymnasium.

Tennis—Our number one player continues to be Patricia Moran, victor in many a tennis match. Winner of the G. H. S. tournament this year was Mattie Moore McGowan, with Betty Wright as runner-up. Matches thus far have been played with Darlington, Parker, and the Woman's College of Furman university. An interesting trip was taken to Clinton to see Donald Budge in an exhibition match.

Helen Stewart—As president of the Girls' Athletic association, star basketball forward, outstanding baseball pitcher, and holder of the high-score mark in archery, Helen has endeared herself to her classmates at G. H. S. by her athletic ability and good sportsmanship.

MISS CAROLINE EASLEY
Girls' Physical Education Director

NAUTILUS HOLDS A BEAUTY CONTEST

With Ann Rutherford

LOVELY ANN RUTHERFORD, M-G-M actress is seen (top) trying to decide on the six most beautiful G. H. S. maidens from the 18 photos submitted her by THE NAUTILUS. It was the first time in history that a Hollywood celebrity participated in a Greenville High beauty contest and is another feather in the cap of the 1940 NAUTILUS staff.

HERE (Below) SHE HAS the winners in the contest. The girls chosen by Miss Rutherford were Caroline Webster, and Sara Sullivan, seniors; Ruth Anderson and Eugenia Jones, juniors; Virginia Walker and Alice Miller, Sophomores.

Miss Rutherford, who captured Greenville's heart last fall when she was a visitor at the Cotton Festival, is now busy at work at Hollywood in both "Andy Hardy Meets Debutants" and "Pride and Prejudice."

● THE NAUTILUS is indebted to Major G. Heyward Mahon, Jr., for his cooperation in securing Miss Rutherford's services for this contest. Thanks a million, Major!—ED.

Graduates and Students - - -

We congratulate you upon your promotion. Each step in education is an accomplishment you may be proud of—an asset in every future undertaking. Take advantage of further education at college, if at all possible.

And Remember - - -

The eyes of some business man are constantly on you. He is waiting and watching and in due time will offer you a place in business. So determine now, and with a will power that will not be shaken, that you will be the sort of young man employers are looking for—enthusiastic, energetic, courteous young men who are scrupulously honest and fair and sober.
